Up-tick in confidence on states' mixed results

- Consumer confidence saw a small rise of 0.5% last week, driven mainly by strong increases in South Australia and Western Australia and a rebound in Brisbane as restrictions were eased in parts of Queensland.
- The subindices registered mixed results with the ones capturing 'current' conditions changing the most. 'Current financial conditions' improved 7.0%, while 'current economic conditions' declined 6.9%.
- 'Future' conditions were practically unchanged with 'future financial conditions' softer by 0.3% and 'future economic conditions' 0.3% better.
- 'Time to buy a major household item' gained 1.6%. 'Weekly inflation expectations' fell 0.1ppt to 4.4%, after reaching a 26-month high last week. Its four-week moving average rose 0.1ppt to 4.4%.

ANZ-Roy Morgan Consumer Confidence and inflation expectations

Last weekend (21-22 Aug)	Weekly change, %	Four-week average	Monthly average since 1990	Inflation expectations (four-week ma)
101.6	0.5%	100.8	112.5	4.4%

This weekly ANZ-Roy Morgan Australian Consumer Confidence Rating is based on 1,512 interviews conducted online and over the telephone on the weekend. Not seasonally adjusted. Further data history on page 6.

ANZ Head of Australian Economics, David Plank, commented:

Consumer confidence rose 0.5% last week amidst rising cases and fresh lockdowns in Victoria and the ACT and an extension of the one in Sydney. The overall figure was due to rises of 8.0% in SA, 11.4% in WA and 1.7% in Brisbane. The news about the strength of the labour market in July with, unemployment rate dropping to 4.6%, might have added to the positive outlook. Confidence in Victoria and NSW remained at the lowest level among the states, falling 2.9% and 1.9% respectively. But even with this drop, sentiment in these two states remains well above the lows of last year. This supports our expectation that household spending will likely rebound sharply in lockdown areas when restrictions ease.
