Confidence drops on Brisbane lockdown, end of JobKeeper

- Headline consumer confidence suffered a large fall of 4.6pts (-4.1%) and all subindices weakened.
- 'Current financial conditions' declined 5.8pts (-5.6%), more than offsetting the previous week's gain, while 'future financial conditions' fell 4.3pts (-3.4%).
- 'Current economic conditions' dropped 4.0pts (-3.9%), while 'future economic conditions' softened for the fourth week in a row by 0.8pts (-0.7%).
- 'Time to buy a major household item' fell 7.9pts (-6.6%), its largest fall since August 2020. Both 'weekly inflation expectations' and its four week moving average remained steady at 3.7% and 3.8% respectively.

This weekly ANZ-Roy Morgan Australian Consumer Confidence Rating is based on 1,494 interviews conducted online and over the telephone on the weekend. Not seasonally adjusted. Further data history on page 6.

ANZ Senior Economist, Catherine Birch, commented:

New COVID-19 cases, the snap Brisbane lockdown and the end of JobKeeper combined to drag consumer confidence down 4.6pts. This was the largest fall since late-March 2020. Not even the Easter long weekend could cheer us up; in fact, in four of the five years pre-COVID, confidence declined over Easter. Queensland recorded the sharpest drop of 11.2pts, even though the 3-day Brisbane lockdown ended on Thursday, but all other states bar South Australia also recorded declines. History shows that confidence tends to bounce back quickly once lockdowns lift though, so we should see confidence improve over coming weeks. It's possible, however, that the end of JobKeeper on 28 March will have a more prolonged effect on confidence.
